OUR OTTAWA LETTER.

The Irregularities in the Civil Service—The Tarte-McGreedy Investigation.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
OTTAWA, July 11.—This has been an exciting and sensational week in political circles. One were to search the archives of the Privy Council office it would be impossible to find at any period in our past history such a record as that, which this week has brought forth. The suspension of one of the highest officials in the Public Service, the resignation of another high official, and the suspension of two subordinate officers does not often take place and it is sincerely to be hoped for the sake of the civil service that the end has been reached. The telegraph wires have communicated to you the reason for Mr. Perley's suspension. I have known the late chief engineer of Public Works for a number of years, and I can say that there are few men, within the range of my acquaintance, who bore a higher reputation for uprightness than he did. It was a surprise to the members of the Privileges and Elections committee when the odorous Mr. Murphy took the stand on Wednesday morning, and unblushingly avowed that he had offered Mr. Perley a present of $2,000, and upon his refusing to accept it he had expressed to the engineer a quantity of jewelry and silver plate valued at $1,885. Murphy has been so much discredited during the past two weeks, time and time again he having placed himself in such a position that no fair-minded man would believe him upon oath, that when he made his charges against the chief engineer of Public Works it was thought he was simply telling a story which had not the slightest foundation in fact. The morning following Mr. Perley asked to be heard in his own defence. In broken accents and evidently, feeling keenly the unfortunate position in which he is placed, Mr. Perley described how the tempter came to him. It appears that Murphy visited Mr. Perley's house, and on the engineer refusing to accept the gift tendered, as Murphy said to him, by the firm of Larkin, Connolly & Co., as a mark of their appreciation for the manner in which he had managed affairs in connection with Quebec harbor, he it remembered, that Mr. Perley was then being addressed, not as chief engineer of the Public Works Department, but as engineer of the Quebec Harbor Commissioners, and then Murphy went so far as to slip the money in an envelope and place it under the cover on the piano. Before he left the house the money was discovered there and Mr. Perley peremptorily refused to take it. Then, in an unguarded moment, as he says, to get rid of the importunate contractor, Mr. Perley said that Murphy might give Mrs. Perley a diamond ring, or something to that effect. With this Murphy went away, and a few days later purchased at Birk's jewelry store, in Montreal, jewelry and plate of the amount previously stated, and had it forwarded to Ottawa. The package arrived at a time when Mr. Perley was not at home, and was therefore opened in his absence. He says he was appalled by the quantity of valuable articles, and was anxious to get rid of them, but thought he would wait until he could see Murphy or some other member of the firm. It was weeks afterwards that he had an opportunity of speaking about it, and then he asked Murphy for the bill, which was presented to him. A man in his position cannot dip his hand into his pocket and spend $1,885, in one fell swoop, on jewelry, and, therefore, it was that the matter was allowed to rest in the meanwhile. Here it is, however, that Mr. Perley made his faux pas before the committee. He had given the committee to understand that he was animated with a desire to redeem himself on account of the error he had committed, and he proceeded to state that he had repaid the amount last year. On further inquiry, however, being made, it appeared that Mr. Perley had simply given an I.O.U. A very bad impression was created by this misstatement, and Mr. Perley lost a good deal of sympathy by it. Had he but frankly avowed what the condition of affairs actually were, doubtless more consideration would have been extended to him, but, as it is, he cut the ground almost entirely from under his feet. After Mr. Perley's admission, the Government had no alternative but to ask him for his resignation. It is definitely understood that Mr. Perley will retire from the public service, but the feeling is general, in view of his splendid record as a public servant, that the Government should deal liberally with him in the matter of superannuation.

The case of the Deputy Minister of the Interior is one entirely different from that of Mr. Perley. Setting aside the dispute between Mr. Henry, of the Interior Department, and Mr. Burgess, the latter had explained to Henry why an additional hundred dollars should be tacked on to a cheque which Henry was to approve, it would appear that the only blame attaching to Mr. Burgess is that he was over-sensitive in regard to paying his father-in-law for work he had legitimately performed. Mr. Anderson, the gentleman in question, was an old and respected journalist, well known to many of the newspaper men of Ontario. He had more than earned the money due to him, but owing to "skits" which appeared in certain Grit newspapers—notably the Ottawa Free Press—that the Deputy Minister of the Interior was giving employment to some of his relatives, Mr. Burgess took the course he did of paying Mr. Anderson. It was a case of mistaken delicacy to abstain from squarely paying the money to Mr. Anderson when it had been honestly earned. It was an error of judgment, and doubtless Mr. Burgess has been punished sufficiently for it by the public and notoriety he has gained during the past two or three days. He has placed his resignation, as I telegraphed you last evening, in the hands of Mr. Dewdney, but it is altogether improbable that it will be accepted. Mr. Burgess is one of the ablest, if not the ablest, among the deputy heads in the public service, and no one knows this better than the members of the Government. It would be a great loss to the country, if his services were dispensed with for such a comparatively trivial offence.

In regard to the other two clerks, their cases are serious enough to warrant suspension. On their clear admission, contrary to the provisions of the Civil Service Act, they contemplated or participated in extra payment in the Civil Service Act, expressly forbids any payment being made to any public official, beyond his ordinary salary, unless such sum or sums be specially voted by Parliament. There is good reason to believe, however, that the system of permanent-officials participating with extra clerks in payment for extra work runs pretty much through all the departments. In fact, there is the best evidence for the statement that it is by no means confined to the Interior Department. One can foresee that some good will come from the stirring up of this mud-puddle. Some scheme will have to be devised, whereby men, who are well entitled to a liberal remuneration for the services which they render to the country, should have those services properly recognized. There is something wrong with the C. S. Act as it operates at present, and the Government will have to take some steps to overcome the difficulty, which presents itself.

Looking at the matter from another standpoint, there is a strong feeling in the service, amongst those whose skirts are clear that the Government should appoint a commission and probe these irregularities to the bottom. Let there be no mincing of matters, say they.

THE TARTÉ INQUIRY.
The investigation before the Privileges and Elections committee is dragging its weary length along. Daily sessions are being held, but the end is far from being in sight. Already the evidence and minutes of proceedings make a fairly bulky volume of 400 pages, and at the rate of progress now being made, it is expected that it will reach 1,000 pages before it is completed. As yet, barely the fringe has been touched. Owen Murphy and Nicholas I. Connolly, however, given their testimony, have these two yet to come. Patrick Larkin, Martin Connolly and book-keeper, Sir Hector Langevin, Thomas McGreevy, Robert McGreevy, Charles H. McGreevy, Robertson, the undoubted Mr. Tarte himself, and a score of other witnesses. It is also reported that Messrs. Baker and Shakespeare will be subpoenaed, and doubtless your late members would readily come to Ottawa, if only for the purpose of disproving certain statements in regard to them. So far as I can see, however, there will be no necessity for them coming here. Nicholas Connolly did the mainly act by them yesterday by stating that any conversation he had with them in reference to the lengthening of the dock at Esquimalt was simply of an honorable character. Public opinion was very strong in Victoria in favor of the lengthening of the dock, and Messrs. Shakespeare and Baker were simply endeavoring to give expression to that feeling by urging the Government to accede to the wishes of the residents of the city. Nicholas Connolly stated that not one cent of money had been paid to your late representatives or to any body else in connection with the agitation about the lengthening of the dock, and Mr. Tarte admitted they were free from blame. The irrepressible Mr. Lister of Lambton, who is everlastingly poking his nose into other people's business, thought he would have a

Murphy has been so much discredited during the past two weeks, time and time again he having placed himself in such a position that no fair-minded man would believe him upon oath, that when he made his charges against the chief engineer of Public Works it was thought he was simply telling a story which had not the slightest foundation in fact. The morning following Mr. Perley asked to be heard in his own defence. In broken accents and evidently, feeling keenly the unfortunate position in which he is placed, Mr. Perley described how the tempter came to him. It appears that Murphy visited Mr. Perley's house, and on the engineer refusing to accept the gift tendered, as Murphy said to him, by the firm of Larkin, Connolly & Co., as a mark of their appreciation for the manner in which he had managed affairs in connection with Quebec harbor, he it remembered, that Mr. Perley was then being addressed, not as chief engineer of the Public Works Department, but as engineer of the Quebec Harbor Commissioners, and then Murphy went so far as to slip the money in an envelope and place it under the cover on the piano. Before he left the house the money was discovered there and Mr. Perley peremptorily refused to take it. Then, in an unguarded moment, as he says, to get rid of the importunate contractor, Mr. Perley said that Murphy might give Mrs. Perley a diamond ring, or something to that effect. With this Murphy went away, and a few days later purchased at Birk's jewelry store, in Montreal, jewelry and plate of the amount previously stated, and had it forwarded to Ottawa. The package arrived at a time when Mr. Perley was not at home, and was therefore opened in his absence. He says he was appalled by the quantity of valuable articles, and was anxious to get rid of them, but thought he would wait until he could see Murphy or some other member of the firm. It was weeks afterwards that he had an opportunity of speaking about it, and then he asked Murphy for the bill, which was presented to him. A man in his position cannot dip his hand into his pocket and spend $1,885, in one fell swoop, on jewelry, and, therefore, it was that the matter was allowed to rest in the meanwhile. Here it is, however, that Mr. Perley made his faux pas before the committee. He had given the committee to understand that he was animated with a desire to redeem himself on account of the error he had committed, and he proceeded to state that he had repaid the amount last year. On further inquiry, however, being made, it appeared that Mr. Perley had simply given an I.O.U. A very bad impression was created by this misstatement, and Mr. Perley lost a good deal of sympathy by it. Had he but frankly avowed what the condition of affairs actually were, doubtless more consideration would have been extended to him, but, as it is, he cut the ground almost entirely from under his feet. After Mr. Perley's admission, the Government had no alternative but to ask him for his resignation. It is definitely understood that Mr. Perley will retire from the public service, but the feeling is general, in view of his splendid record as a public servant, that the Government should deal liberally with him in the matter of superannuation.

The case of the Deputy Minister of the Interior is one entirely different from that of Mr. Perley. Setting aside the dispute between Mr. Henry, of the Interior Department, and Mr. Burgess, the latter had explained to Henry why an additional hundred dollars should be tacked on to a cheque which Henry was to approve, it would appear that the only blame attaching to Mr. Burgess is that he was over-sensitive in regard to paying his father-in-law for work he had legitimately performed. Mr. Anderson, the gentleman in question, was an old and respected journalist, well known to many of the newspaper men of Ontario. He had more than earned the money due to him, but owing to "skits" which appeared in certain Grit newspapers—notably the Ottawa Free Press—that the Deputy Minister of the Interior was giving employment to some of his relatives, Mr. Burgess took the course he did of paying Mr. Anderson. It was a case of mistaken delicacy to abstain from squarely paying the money to Mr. Anderson when it had been honestly earned. It was an error of judgment, and doubtless Mr. Burgess has been punished sufficiently for it by the public and notoriety he has gained during the past two or three days. He has placed his resignation, as I telegraphed you last evening, in the hands of Mr

AMERICAN NEWS.

The Business Portion of Boulder Creek, Col., Destroyed by Fire—Locusts in Colorado.

Wheelmen's Tournament at Detroit—Chicago Stockyards to be Removed—A Lover of Fire.

Serious Fire.
SANTA CRUZ, Cal., July 16.—Fire broke out last night at Boulder Creek, 14 miles from here, and before morning the whole business part of the place, with the exception of one building was in ashes. The buildings burned consisted of seven saloons, hotel, jewelry store, restaurant, candy store, fruit store, livery stable, blacksmith shop, and several dwellings. Among the heaviest losers were Dougherty and Middleton, who lost three dwellings, a large barn and a building containing a butcher shop. The firm saved its large store, which is the principal building left. Neither the loss nor the insurance can be estimated closely. Roughly the loss is placed at $30,000, and the insurance at one-half that amount.

Locusts Devastating Colorado.
DENVER, July 15.—A special to the News from Brush, Col., says: The whole country south of here is completely infested with young grass hoppers of the locust species, the same that laid waste Kansas and Nebraska years ago. They seem to be increasing daily, and are now so numerous as to drive sheep and cattle before them. Alfalfa, unripe grain and gardens are being completely ruined.

The American Hog Abroad.
CHICAGO, July 16.—The leading pork packers here scout the idea that Russia will be able to keep the American hog from foreign markets. The proposed plan to be erected near Moscow at a cost of $150,000, they say, would be utterly incapable of competing with Chicago packers, that sum not being sufficient to furnish facilities for economic work. They also claim that there are not enough hogs raised in Russia to keep one Chicago house running one month.

Trouble in the Eastern League.
SYRACUSE, N.Y., July 16.—The Syracuse Club of the Eastern Baseball League is in financial trouble, and will probably be disbanded. The salaries of the players, due to-day, were not forthcoming, and they have decided to leave the club. It is feared the disbandment of the Syracuse club foreshadows the fate of the league.

Wheelmen's Tournament at Detroit.
DETROIT, July 16.—Five thousand wheelmen are in the city, representing the leading clubs in the country. The tournament begins at 2 o'clock with a twenty-five mile road race from Pontiac to the city. There are twenty-seven entries, and as the road is in good shape, fast time is expected. The lantern parade to Belle Island occurs this evening, followed by a display of fireworks. In the race from Pontiac, Van Syden, scratch, pneumatic, won in 1 hour, 25 minutes, 1 second; J. Kittinger, solid, handicapped 14 minutes, 1 hour, 34 minutes, 48 and 3.5 seconds. H. Dickinson was third, on a solid, 17 $\frac{1}{2}$ minutes handicap, in 1 hour, 38 minutes, 48 seconds. In the lantern parade, to-night, 4,000 wheels were in line, each carrying two or more lanterns.

Chicago Stockyards to be Removed.
CHICAGO, July 16.—It is reported that negotiations are in progress looking to a consolidation of the Union stockyards, Union Transfer company, the Stickney enterprise and Chicago Belt road. Competent persons are said to be at work determining the question of values. The object is a final removal of the stockyards to the more commodious Stickney tract.

Wedding of the "Proxy Bride."
CHICAGO, July 16.—Nina Van Zandt and S. Stefano Malatto were married, to-night, at the residence of the bride's parents by Justice Lyon. The bride was attired in a white satin decollete gown, made in the Italian style of the thirteenth century, with diamond and pearl ornaments. The couple left on a late train for New York to take a steamer for Liverpool, whence they go to Palermo, the former home of the groom. The couple expect ultimately to make their home in Chicago. Mrs. Malatto it was who became the so-called "proxy bride" of Anarchist August Spies in 1887.

Pistols for Two.
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 16.—This evening a duel with pistols took place in a saloon between Eugene Byres, an ex-United States deputy marshal, and Wesley Garnee, an ex-police man, in which both men were shot. An old grudge existed between them and they fought to-day and attempted to shoot each other but were separated. To-night they met again and opened fire. Garnee was shot in the stomach and is dying, and Byres is seriously wounded. Both were desperate characters.

She Loves a Fire.
NEW YORK, July 16.—Josephine Moerhoeft, the 17-year-old girl who was arrested, with her father, Henry Moerhoeft, on Sunday last, on suspicion of having set fire to the premises in which they lived, in Williamsburg, made a confession to the fire marshal, yesterday, in which she acknowledges herself guilty. Fire Marshal Lewis will request Justice Kenna to have her mental condition inquired into. She says she set fire to her father's house six times, last Sunday, between 3 o'clock in the afternoon and 8 at night. "I poured oil over the floor and other places," she said, "and then I lit a match and set fire to it. No one was present while I was doing it, and no one told me to do it. I did it because I love a fire and like to see it blaze."

The West Superior Storm.
DULUTH, Minn., July 17.—Last night's storm at West Superior was even worse than the late reports of yesterday made it. In all, five men were killed by the falling of the new hotel. About 25 had gathered in the building to seek refuge from the rain and wind, when it collapsed, falling level with the earth. Following is the list of killed and injured: Hermann Rosser, 26 years, was taken out, both legs broken, and a board had pierced his lungs; John Schofield, aged 29, both legs broken, died shortly after being taken out. Chas. Lucius, aged 24, died after being taken out. Both legs broken. Jno. Laurer, married, aged 36, was taken out dead. Besides these, four more were severely injured, one of them Jno. Lang, will die to-day, and a half dozen more are badly hurt. Assistant Chief Mellogg of the fire department had his leg broken. So thick was the debris, that it was three hours before the last body was reached. The store building of William Mosher, on Ohio avenue, was blown down and demolished. Green Bros., who were in the building, barely escaped with their lives. Another building on the corner of Susquehanna and 10th streets was blown down, and two buildings on Lakawana street were blown down. At West Duluth, several small buildings were unroofed.

Lynched in Kentucky.
MIDDLESBORO, Ky., July 17.—A desperate attempt was made to assassinate the Middleboro police force, yesterday. About 3 p.m., a lot of disreputable characters who frequent Gun Springs, a low drinking and gambling dive just outside the city limits, concocted the plot to murder the officers. They accordingly stationed about fifteen of their gang in ambush, along the Louisville and Nashville railroad, and two of their number began firing their Winchester. These two were Gillis Johnston and Frank Rosimus. Chief Maples, with a posse of officers, went in pursuit of the pair, and they were led into an ambush. Over a hundred shots were exchanged. Special officer Dorsey Williams was shot through both thighs and patrolman Tucker was shot in the leg. The police were forced to retire. They returned to the city and a posse of about 100 citizens, armed with rifles, soon captured both the desperadoes and lodged them in jail. About 4 o'clock this morning a crowd of masked men entered Jailer Ballitz's sleeping apartments in the city jail, and with pistols at his head demanded the keys of the jail. The jailer was forced to give up the keys, the crowd then went into the jail, took Rosimus out and led him to the big bridge over Canal and Twentieth streets, where he was shot several times. A rope was then fastened about his neck, and he was swung over the side of the bridge until 7 o'clock, when he was cut down. A placard was placed over the bridge rail, just above the body, bearing this inscription: "Warning! this is the fate of all would-be murderers."

Big Suit Pending.
NEW YORK, July 17.—Wm. R. Grace said, to-day, that neither his firm nor his attorneys have been served with papers in the suit of Guillermo Bogardus, a resident of Lima, Peru, as reported to have begun in the United States Circuit court to recover $19,000 from W. R. Grace & Co. "It is nothing but blackmail," said Mr. Grace to a United Press reporter, to-day. "We did buy a claim from Bogardus, and kept our agreement with him."

The World Enriched.
The facilities of the present day for the production of everything that will conduce to the material welfare and comfort of mankind are almost unlimited and when Syrup of Figs was first produced the world was enriched with the only perfect laxative known, as it is the only remedy which is truly pleasing and refreshing to the taste and prompt and effectual to cleanse the system gently in the Spring time or, in fact, at any time and the better it is known the more popular it becomes.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

Coast Labor League.
SAN FRANCISCO, July 16.—There is now assurance that a coast federation of labor, on the plan recently laid out by federated trades of the Pacific Coast, will be formed. Returns from several points show a general desire among the wage workers for some such coalition, and if the present programme should be carried out, the convention for organizing the federation will be held in this city next September, and will perhaps represent 50,000 workmen.

Avalanche of Japs.
SAN FRANCISCO, July 16.—Advises received here, to-day, state that 1,000 Japanese are on the way to California to work in orchards, and another 1,000 are bound for Oregon and Washington for employment in the hop fields.

Drowned in a Pool.
OLYMPIA, July 16.—Guy Westover, a seven-year-old boy, was accidentally drowned to-day in a pool of water four feet deep, on the East Side. He had been playing on a raft and fell in and was drowned before assistance came.

An "If" in the Case.
SAN FRANCISCO, July 16.—If Fitzsimmons defeats Jim Hall he has promised President Fulda, of the California Athletic Club, that he will fight Pritchard, the English champion middle-weight, for a large purse.

Portland's Chamber of Commerce.
PORTLAND, July 16.—Arthur Johnson and brother, of Chicago, have secured the contract for building the new chamber of commerce, their bid being $433,000. This is without heating and other extras, which will swell the cost to $500,000. The structure is to be of stone, eight stories high, and will cover half a block in the business center of the city. The entrance, which will be of marble, will cost $20,000. The chamber room will be the finest of the kind in the United States. L. Hodgison, of Omaha, drew up the plans for the building.

The Marion Joins the Fleet.
PORT TOWNSEND, July 16.—Lieut. Commander Bartlett, commanding the United States ship Marion, this afternoon, received orders to join the Behring Sea patrol at Unalakleet, where he will report to the senior officer for duty, after which he is to join the Asiatic squadron. The Marion leaves here Saturday for Nanaimo to coal. On Monday she starts for the North.

THE NEW STEAMER VICTORIAN.
Makes a Trial Trip at Portland—Coming to Seattle Next Week.

PORTLAND, July 16.—The trial trip of the new Union Pacific steamer, Victorian, was made this afternoon. About 100 excursionists were on board, and they all pronounced the steamer the finest on the Coast. Everything is in ship-shape, and the machinery moved like clockwork. This steamer has been building for some time, and she cost about $200,000. She will be taken to the Sound some time next week, and will be placed on the run between Seattle and Victoria.

SURE OF A SETTLEMENT.

American Seal Commissioners Leave on the Albatross.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 16.—Professor T. C. Mendenhall and Dr. A. C. Hart Merriam, commissioners appointed to represent the United States government in the adjustment of the Behring's Sea controversy, left for Alaska and the Pribilof Islands on the Albatross this afternoon. Shortly before Professor Mendenhall left he stated that he thought there was every reason to expect an amicable adjustment of the difficulty as results of the conference between the American commissioners and British representatives, Sir William Dawson, of Montreal, and Sir Baden Powell, member of Parliament of England.

"Cessation of the international dispute must certainly be as desirable to Great Britain as to the United States," added Professor Mendenhall, "the seal trade of both countries being so valuable, and I think the British commissioners will co-operate with us to effect an early and fair solution of the difficulty. I have known Dr. Dawson intimately for many years, and I am sure our work, so far as he is concerned, will be pleasantly accomplished. The result of our conference, which will be either in Alaska or at the Pribilof Islands, will not be made known until after we make our report to the government in Washington."

Instructions to the commissioners from Washington are secret, and upon the conclusion of the conference Professor Mendenhall will proceed to Washington by the most direct route, while Dr. Merriam will return on the Albatross to San Francisco.

TEACHERS' CONVENTION.

The Next Meeting to be Held at Helena, Montana—Spelling Reform Discussed.

TORONTO, Ont., July 16.—The International Educational Association elected the following officers at this morning's session: President, E. H. Cook, of New York; Secretary, R. W. Stevenson, of Kansas; Treasurer, J. M. Greenwood, of Missouri; first Vice-President, W. R. Garrett, of Tennessee; E. B. McElroy, of Oregon, was elected Vice-President at large. Directors representing the various States were also elected.

"Spelling Reform" was the subject of a lengthy discussion, a special committee which had considered the subject making a report. Charles D. Garrow, of Bloomington, Ill., read a paper on "The Basis for Ethical Training in Elementary Schools," a plea for the moral training of school children in the public schools. The different departments held meetings in the afternoon, and elected officers. The art department elected for President, F. E. Collins, of Denver; the normal school department, Charles D. Garrow, of Illinois; elementary education, Dr. Picken, of New York; secondary education, Frank E. Plummer, of Des Moines, Iowa.

At a meeting, this morning, of the directors, Helena, Mont., was decided on as the next place of meeting, as against Saratoga and Seattle, by a large majority.

The kindergarten section elected Mrs. Jas. L. Hughes, of Toronto, President, and Miss Nora Smith, of San Francisco, Vice-President.

KAMLOOPS.

Twelfth of July Celebration—Stabbing Affray at Vernon—Huling on the North Thompson.

(From our own Correspondent.) Three hundred sheep from Okanagon, for Messrs. Hayes and McIntosh, Vancouver, were, this week, shipped for the coast markets. The animals were well conditioned.

The 12th of July was celebrated here in good style. It was the first occasion in the history of the local lodge that a public demonstration was attempted. The brethren assembled at their lodge rooms, from which they marched in procession to the Methodist church, where special services were held. In the evening they attended divine service at the Presbyterian church. The turnout was most creditable to the district.

A serious stabbing affray is reported from Vernon. The victim is a man named Andrews, and his assailant a drunken Indian, Baptiste. Dr. Chip is in attendance on the injured man.

J. T. B. Jacob, of Shuswap, has been fined $50 and costs for supplying whiskey to a klotchman named Lucy.

Mining on the North Thompson is making good headway. Several new claims have been registered, the samples from each assaying well.

The weather during the past week has been very warm, the glass running as high as 93° in the shade.

A carload of pure bred Hereford cattle, from Shreelbrook, Quebec, have reached town for the Douglas Lake Cattle Co. Dr. S. J. Tunstall has returned much improved in health, after a three weeks' vacation, rendered necessary owing to illness. His numerous friends here were delighted to welcome him back.

BATTLE WITH A BULL.

A Farmer's Daughter Plinked the Beast with a Pitchfork.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., July 16.—Walter Shattuck, a farmer living near the village of Liverpool, had a terrible encounter with a mad bull, yesterday, and now lies at the point of death. The bull got out of the pasture and Mr. Shattuck took a club to drive him back. The bull went along for a few rods and then turned upon Mr. Shattuck, knocking him down. The animal jumped on the man and tried to gore him.

Mr. Shattuck caught the bull by the ring in his nose by one hand and with the other grasped the animal's tongue. His wife and daughter saw the fight from the house and hurried to the "rescue." When they reached him he sent his daughter to the barn for a pitchfork, and when she returned he instructed her to run the tine of the fork through the ring and pinion the bull's head to the ground. She did this and released her father. Mr. Shattuck's clothes were torn to shreds and he was dreadfully cut and bruised.

FUND FOR THE STRIKE.

Carpenters Preparing for Extensive Operations Next May.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 16.—The carpenters' trade is said to be overdone in the city at present. Owing to dullness in building at Seattle, Tacoma, Denver and Salt Lake a number of idle carpenters have drifted to this city, and about 2,000 members of that craft are thought to be out of employment here now. The carpenters of this city, as well as the rest of the unions, are contributing to the national strike fund, which is rapidly growing, and will be used for the general strike to be begun on the first of

KILLED BY THE STORM.

A New Building at West Superior, Wis., Blown Down—Five Corpses in the Ruins.

ST. PAUL, July 16.—A Pioneer Press special from West Superior, Wis., says: A wind storm of terrific violence swept over Superior to-day. There was heavy rain, and the air was heavily charged with electricity. The storm lasted only a short while, but in that time did great damage to property, besides taking at least five lives and injuring a number of persons.

During the height of the storm an alarm of fire was turned in from the fifth ward, and the department responded to find a new, large, three-story frame hotel in course of construction on Third street, near Lamborn avenue, a mass of ruins. The structure was blown down, and the cry went up that the wreck was the tomb of many men. The news flashed over the city and hundreds of citizens rushed to the spot. In spite of the pouring rain the visitors rushed in and helped the firemen in the rescue. The work is still in progress, fresh men taking the places of those giving up through fatigue. Fully 3,000 people are at the ruins at a late hour to-night.

The dead are: John Lauro, Chas. Lucie, Herman Paussey, an unknown man, and John Schofield.

Among the most seriously injured are: John Brown, John Long, William Semple and Dick Clark. Brown and Long will probably die.

Women ran about regardless of the rain and mud, wearing their hands out and crying, filled with a terrible fear that a husband or children might be in the ruins.

An eye witness of the disaster says he saw a crowd of workmen run into the building to seek shelter from the storm. About thirty or forty men must have been inside.

This disaster was the central feature, but much damage was done in all directions. The steel hoisting and conveying apparatus employed by the Silver Creek and Morris and Ohio Coal companies was badly damaged.

A large frame building was blown down at the corner of Third and Lower streets, South Superior, and a number of other buildings were leveled, but no casualties. Lightning played havoc with the Fisher hotel, Unitarian church, Union depot and other buildings, but no serious fires resulted.

PECULIAR LEGISLATION.

We see that the bill to secure the better observance of the Lord's Day, agreed to by a special committee of the Dominion House of Commons, prohibits "the printing, publication and sale of any newspapers, provided, however, that the necessary office work may be performed after nine o'clock in the evening of the Lord's Day for the purpose of facilitating the publication of a Monday morning issue of any daily newspaper." The effect of this bill, if it becomes law, will be to condemn all who are connected with printing and publishing daily newspapers in British Columbia, to work on Sundays. In order to give printers, editors and reporters what is, in effect, the whole Lord's Day to themselves, it has become the custom here for daily papers to issue a Sunday morning edition and to have no Monday morning paper. Almost all the work of the Sunday paper is done on Saturday.
On Saturday, editors and reporters do very nearly the whole of their work before twelve o'clock at night. Printers, proof-readers and pressmen work until two or three o'clock on Sunday morning, after which the whole staff are free to rest until Monday afternoon. Any one who has been employed on an Eastern morning paper feels the difference between getting out a Sunday morning paper and a Monday morning paper to be for him a blessed one. (Where there is no Monday paper to think about and to work for, he has the whole of Sunday for himself. It is then, indeed, a Day of Rest, and he keenly enjoys the freedom from work and worry. Whereas, where there is a paper to be issued on Monday morning, those engaged on the literary part of it do not feel for a moment free on Sunday.
There is Monday morning's paper to think about and to prepare for. Then there is a great deal of actual work to do before nine o'clock in the evening, when the law allows the compositors to go to work. Matter must be prepared for them, and that implies work for editors, reporters and telegraph operators. If the Monday morning's paper does not contain the very latest news the Sabbatarians will be among the first to complain. The Sunday morning's paper requires two or, at the most, three hours' work immediately after midnight on Sunday morning for compositors, proof readers, and pressmen, and, a little later, for carriers.
Monday morning's paper compels editors and reporters to work the greater part of Sunday, and takes from compositors, proof readers and telegraph operators the whole of Sunday night. So that, as far as this province is concerned, the new law will take from newspaper men and printers the uninterrupted Sunday's rest which they have so long enjoyed, and make the Lord's Day to them the most unpleasant day in the week, for they will be condemned to work while seeing the rest of the community enjoying their Day of Rest.

We are quite at a loss to see on what ground the committee permitted those engaged in getting out a Monday morning paper to work from nine o'clock p.m. until midnight on the "Sabbath." If they legislate on the assumption that the day is a holy one, in which no manner of work can be done, how can they legitimate the "desecration" of one hour or one minute of that day? Does the House of Commons possess the power to alter and amend the laws of God? Then, again, why cut three hours off the end of the Sabbath day for secular purposes and punish those who work during its first three hours? Are the last three hours of the day less holy than the first three hours? It does not require a logician to prove that if it is wicked to work from midnight to three o'clock on Sunday morning, it is equally wicked to work from nine o'clock on Sunday night to midnight. And, although we are ready to admit that Parliament is very powerful, we do not see our way to allow that it has power to make that which is morally wrong, right.

The advocates of Sabbath legislation will,
perhaps, be surprised to find that the law which they make to compel the better observance of the Lord's Day will, in British Columbia, ensure its worse observance and deprive wearied and hard-working newspaper men of their greatly needed Day of Rest. And this is not, by any means, the only inconsistency by which they will find themselves annoyed and embarrassed if they succeed in carrying the measure now before the Dominion Parliament.

UNCORROBORATED.

We are pleased to see that the Times has altered its tone somewhat with regard to the Tarte scandal and the evidence that has been adduced to support the charges that have been brought against Sir Hector Languevin. It denies that it sympathizes with Owen E. Murphy, and it does not appear quite so jubilant as it was at the prospect—as it considered—of the condemnation of the men accused. It, however, says that Murphy's testimony "is not unsupported." As our contemporary believes that we are partial in the matter—which we are not—we will quote what a newspaper, which it will admit is both disinterested and impartial, says about that person's evidence. In an article, in which it gives a dispassionate and what it evidently desires to make a fair review of the enquiry as it then stood, the Toronto Mail of the 10th inst. says:

"Whether or not a Minister, a Member of Parliament, and an official have benefited in any way through the alterations made in the contracts rests for the present upon the testimony of Owen E. Murphy. Partisans of one side accept Murphy's statements as gospel truth and cast reproach upon those who are said to have blackened his scarcely stainless record. Partisans on the other side pronounce him, off-hand, a "lying wretch," and call upon us to close our eyes to any future testimony, and at once and forever to decide that he is a perjurer. But it is too early to give judgment in his case.
His word, uncorroborated, carries little weight, first, because he has described himself as a defaulter, and, secondly, because regards certain important payments there is no proof, beyond his own word, that the money drawn from the firm's account ever went out of his possession."

The italics are ours. The Toronto Mail, which professes to be independent and unbiased, says that whether Sir Hector Languevin and Mr. Thomas McGreevy benefited by the changes made in the contracts "rests upon the testimony of Owen E. Murphy," and adds that "his word, uncorroborated, carries little weight." As if to deepen the impression which these expressions are calculated to make, the Mail states clearly and definitely that, "There is no proof beyond his own word that the money drawn from the firm's account ever went out of his possession." Our contemporary therefore sees that it is in error when it tries to make its readers believe that Murphy's testimony is supported.
There is not as yet a particle of evidence, documentary or oral, to confirm what that witness has sworn to. There is nothing to show that Nicholas Connolly was wrong when he stated as his conviction that Murphy put the money which he swears he gave to Sir Hector and to Mr. McGreevy into his own pocket.

We think it right to keep our readers posted with respect to the progress of this very important inquiry. Our space does not permit us to publish the proceedings of the committee, but we have kept them informed as to what has been proved and what has not been proved. We are quite sure that, while the great majority of them do not desire to see those who may have done wrong escape, they would be very sorry to see any one who is really innocent incur undeserved odium. Our desire in this matter is to be perfectly fair—"to how to the line, let the chips fall where they may."

A PROJECTED TRANSFORMATION.

The Farmers' Alliance has economic, as well as political, ends in view. It desires, as our readers are already aware, to make the State the people's banker and money lender. It also proposes to make an immense corner in wheat. Some of the leaders of the organization want the farmers of the United States not to sell any wheat until the price rises to a point which, in their opinion, is high enough to remunerate those who raise it. There are some among them who desire not only to do this, but to bring the middlemen and the railways to terms. They believe that the merchant and the common carrier make altogether too much out of the farmer, and they contend that the tillers of the soil, if they unite and hold out resolutely and long enough, will be able to make their own terms with the rest of the world.

The Alliance proposes to transform itself into an immense co-operative concern, not only for selling produce but for the purchase and distribution of merchandise. The state is to be the farmers' banker, and the Alliance is to be their merchant—wholesale and retail. The projectors of this gigantic scheme are H. H. Paley, secretary of the National Cattle Company, and Oswald
Wilson, president of the Farmers' Alliance Exchange, New York. They have already taken the initiatory steps towards the establishment of this immense trading branch of the Farmers' Alliance. If the leaders of the organization have their way the farmer will be on top everywhere and in all things, politically, commercially and socially. The plutocracy must give way to him, and the democracy will be at his feet. When he comes to his own, trusts and combines and syndicates will become powerless, and the whole framework of society will be put together again on altogether new principles. When the Alliance will not only be the great land-owner and bread-producer of the United States, but the sole holder of political power and distributor of political honors, the great merchant and manufacturer and the only manager of railways and telegraphs, where will the politicians, the monopolists and the millionaires be? There is a good time coming for the farmer, is the burden of the song of the Alliance orators and advocates all over the United States.

We are very much afraid that these dreams will not be realized in our time.
The social system, which has taken thousands of years to grow, is not to be upset and re-organized by an organization of farmers in a single generation. The sanguine projectors of the "National Alliance Union" will find, when they attempt to put their fine theories into practice, that they had no conception of the difficulties that stood in their way, and that they did not understand the material with which they proposed to work what reflecting men know are really miracles.

NOT ATTACKED

If Alderman Richards had read our article on "The Proper Course" carefully, he would not have said in the letter, which we publish in another column, "You accuse me of going back on my previous action and of committing a flagrant breach of good faith." We preferred no accusation of any kind against Mr. Richards. We never dreamed of doing such a thing.
What we did say was: "It (the City Council) could not, without a flagrant breach of good faith, and without confessing that it had acted foolishly and with undue haste, undo what it had done." We also said that nothing could be more childish than for "a body of men" entrusted with the performance of important duties to be continually going back on themselves; and then we expressed our pleasure on finding that the City Council had not committed this flagrant breach of good faith, and had not gone back on itself.
How Mr. Richards could construe this language into an attack on himself is more than we can comprehend. The City Council has kept faith with Mr. Belyea, and it has not gone back on its own action, either with regard to his appointment or to the letter written by Mr. Boscowitz, and we in our article commended it, for pursuing so consistent, so honorable and so business-like a course. If the worthy Alderman will take the trouble to read our article again, he will see that it does not contain an attack on him, or on any one else.

BAD ECZEMA ON BABY

Head one Solid Sore. Itching Awful. Had to Tie His Hands to Cradle. Cured by Cuticura.

Our little boy broke out on his head with a bad form of eczema, when he was four months old. We tried three doctors, but they did not help him. We then used your Cuticura Remedies, and after using them eleven weeks exactly according to directions, he began to steadily improve, and after the use of them for seven months his head was entirely well. When we began using it his head was a solid sore
from the crown to his eyebrows. It was also all over his ears, most of his face and small places on different parts of his body. There were six teen weeks that we had to keep his hands tied to the cradle and hold them
when he was taken up;
and had to keep mittens
on his hands to keep him from scratching if he could in any way get his hands loose. We know your Cuticura Remedies cured him. We feel safe in recommending
them to others.

C. P. R. Shares.

The shares of the Canadian Pacific Railway have again risen this week from 80½ to 82½ in New York and Montreal; and 84 in London. This very high price is owing to the reports of an excellent harvest in the Northwest.

A Big Pay Roll.

The monthly pay roll of the New Vancouver Coal Company, Mr. Samuel M. Robbins, superintendent, for the month of June, reached the gigantic figure of $116,808, being the largest ever reached in the history of coal mining on Vancouver Island.

The matron of the P. R. J. Hospital begs to acknowledge the receipt of the following contributions to the hospital during the month of June: Mrs. Tilton and the King's Daughters, nightshirts and one year's number of Punch; Mrs. Musgrave, illustrated papers; Mrs. McKieckling, linen and magazines; Mrs. Chambers, H. D. Helmeck, Flower Mission, flowers.

Funeral Services.

The funeral of the late Mrs. J. C. Devlin took place, yesterday afternoon, from her late home at 42 North Park street, to Ross Bay cemetery. The deceased was a member of the B. C. Secular Union, and the exercises at the grave were conducted by Mr. Simeon Duck, of that association. The pall-bearers were J. Meldrum, A. Cleary, hue, D. McLaughlin, David Lindsay and John Grant.

Death of an Old-Timer.

Frank Cote, a French-Canadian by birth, and aged 78 years, died suddenly at Vancouver on Wednesday night. Deceased had been in the employ of the H. B. Co. for a number of years, having first entered the company's service when that concern carried on business in California in the early forties. He came northwards for the company, first to Oregon, then to Washington, and finally to British Columbia, where he landed in 1847, and at the time of his death was claimed to be the oldest of all the pioneers.

Salvation Army.

Staff Captain and Mrs. Simcoe, who are in charge of the French work in Quebec Province, are visiting the city, and will hold a series of meetings in the barracks, corner of Pandora and Broad streets. They will give particulars of the persecutions to which the army has been subjected there, also of the Quebec riots, the famous law-suit, etc. Meetings commence to-night at 8 o'clock, and will be continued all day to-morrow, and on Monday. They will be glad to give any information concerning their work to all who may desire it.

Not the First.

Valentine E. Lowe and his party, who have just accomplished the ascent of Mount Baker, are being everywhere credited with being the first to reach the icy summits of the grand old mountain. This is an honor which they do not deserve, as in 1868 the mountain top was gained by a Victoria party, composed of E. T. Coleman, at that time librarian of the Mechanics' Institute, and an ex-member of the Alpine Club; Hon. John Tennant, Capt. Thomas Stratton, and David A. N. Ogilvie, who still resides here. Messrs. Coleman and Ogilvie went from here to Whatcom in a canoe, and there met their companions, with whom they made the climb in nine days. The full account of their expedition appears in Harper's New Monthly Magazine, No. 234, of November, 1869.

New Bear Pit at Beacon Hill.

Grizzly, Cinnamon, Black and other bears that are now in captivity and owned by the city of Victoria will have a splendid place to dispose themselves in the future at the new bear pit near the shores of the Straits, in the extreme southwest corner of the park, a magnificent bear pit has been constructed that will accommodate all of the species of the bruin family that are now tied up in the park. The new pit is about 12 feet deep and 30 feet in circumference. It is encased all around with heavy two-inch boards, and has a tree about 20 feet high in the centre for the bears to climb. Around the sides of the pit are arranged holes for the bears when they feel like retiring from the public. The pit has been constructed on the most approved principles, and reflects credit on Chairman Mann of the Park committee, who has had the supervision of the work. The various members of the bruin family were transferred yesterday, during the afternoon, and now the bears are all located in their new home, which, from all appearances, they appreciate to the utmost.

The Kirk Block.

Mr. John Teague has perfected the plans for the new Kirk block, on Douglas street, which extends from Port to View street, with a frontage of 240 feet and a depth of 60 feet. For the present it will be only two storeys in height with a basement, but will, in all probability, have additional storeys added. It will be of brick, upon substantial stone foundations, the dressings being of stone and galvanized iron. The ground floor will consist of nine stores, all facing on Douglas street, two of them, moreover, being corner stores. The building will be heated by steam, the upper part being divided into single rooms, and suites of rooms suitable for offices or private apartments. The building will be provided with an elevator well, though, for the present, it is hardly likely that it will be utilized. There will be three entrances to the second storey, supplied with wide staircases. Due provision

THE PLEASURES OF A DAY.

Amusements Provided for the Saturday Half-Holiday—An Attractive List.

Those who fail to enjoy themselves this afternoon will have themselves to blame. The list of amusements is as complete as could be desired, and provides plenty of variety.

For those who wish to stay at home there will be baseball and cricket matches at Beacon Hill, where, by kind permission of the officers, the band of H.M.S. Warspite will play. The cricket match will be between Victoria college and an eleven from H.M.S. Warspite; the baseball game between two nines of the V.A.C.'s, the men taking positions as below:—

Game to be called at 2:30 p.m.

For those who enjoy a few hours on the water, the Olympian's excursion will just fill the bill. The steamer will leave her own wharf at 1:30 o'clock, cross to Port Angeles, and thence follow the American coast line, past Port Crescent to the Cape, returning along the British shore. Dinner will be served on board and Prof. Pfedner's band will furnish music for dancing.

At Oak Bay beach, the new pavilion will enjoy a basket picnic, and the new pavilion will also be formally opened. This new structure has been erected in just five days, and it is already under lease. There will be music at the beach and ice cream and light refreshments on sale. The tram cars will run as usual from the city.

BUSINESS MATTERS.

Wholesale trade differs very little from its conditions this time last year. At the beginning of the month there was a considerable amount of dullness consequent on the holidays, but matters are much better now. Dry goods for the time of the year are as good as can be expected, this being a sort of between seasons. Starting up orders were good until a few days since, groceries are very quiet, the summer weather having interfered with trade to a material extent. In fact, for many articles there is no demand at all. Fruits of the season are plentiful, and are to be had at what are regarded as moderate prices. There is still much dependence on California.

The reduction of the duty on sugar has had the effect of reducing the price from 1½ to 2 cents per pound, with the result that there has been a considerably increased consumption irrespective of the fact that the present is the preserving season. The ordinary staples are much as usual. The indications of the season are that there will be a short pack of salmon. When the steamer Princess Louise left the North the run on the Naas had not begun, while that on the Skeena was no more than fair. On the Fraser, up to Wednesday night, the boats had not averaged more than twenty fish. There are those who are well satisfied that the pack will probably be a light one, because, as they say, it will have the effect of keeping up prices, while others will be inclined to regret the scarcity, inasmuch as they have considerable contracts ahead of them, at prices already determined. Produce is steady and in good demand. New hay is on the market and the crop is fairly good. The prospects for cereals are better than had been expected, the indications a short time since having been more or less disappointing. Fat cattle are not over-abundant; but the butchers are able to keep up prices and console themselves with the reflection that the demand for meat is not at its greatest during the hot weather. The hardware trade is very good, builders' materials being especially active. Lumber is also steady at fair prices.

UNITED WORKMEN.

Conclusion of the Proceedings of Grand Lodge—Thanks to Victoria—Departure of Many Delegates.

The morning session of the last day's meeting of the Grand Lodge of the Ancient Order of United Workmen was, yesterday, numerously attended.

It was determined that the first communication of the Grand Lodge of Washington should be held at Tacoma, the first Tuesday in December, when the new grand body will be duly organized. What the brethren in British Columbia will do is as yet uncertain. They may organize a Grand Lodge for British Columbia, as is the course recommended by some prominent members; may amalgamate with the Grand Lodge of Washington, or affiliate with that of Ontario.

A matter with which the members will be familiar—the Todd affair—was settled to the satisfaction of the parties interested. The elected officers of Grand Lodge were formally installed by the Supreme Master, and the following were appointed: Guide—H. A. Smith, Astoria. Inside Watchman—T. C. Mackey, Gardner.

Outside Watchman—John F. Moon, Dalles. Finance Committee—F. M. Cohen, chairman; Horace D. Ramsdell, and E. H. Stottle, all of Portland.

Committee on Jurisprudence—W. D. Hare, Hillsboro; Geo. H. Durham, Portland; E. L. Smith, Hood River.

Hearty votes of thanks were unanimously passed to the brethren and the citizens of Victoria for their hearty reception of the delegates, and the courtesies extended to them, particular reference being made to the excellent reports published in the city newspapers.

Thanks were also passed to the transportation companies for facilities afforded.

Just as the convention adjourned there was a general demonstration of good-will and fraternity, as well as a hearty expression of the pleasant time spent here.

The meeting broke up at four o'clock, many of the members taking the steamer City of Kingston for Seattle and Tacoma. It is understood to be the intention of some of the brethren to be present at the basket picnic, this afternoon.

The Warden expressed the thanks of himself and the school for the valuable prizes so generously presented by Mrs. Harris, Mrs. Ward and Mrs. Blakelock, and to the Lieut.-Governor for his kindness in presiding, and His Honor having addressed the school in the kindest terms, the proceedings were brought to a close with cheers for the Governor and Mrs. Nelson and for Mrs. Green.

Shipment of Sealskins.

Yesterday, Messrs. Carne & Munzie shipped to London, England, via the C.P.R.R. and Montreal, 4,702 sealskins, the catch of three s-chooners this year. They fill 75 casks and weigh 44,333 pounds, being worth something like $100,000. They are expected to reach London in about three weeks.

A Question of Jurisdiction. In the Court of Appeals, yesterday, in the matter of a writ of error in the case of Brady, convicted in July, 1890, in the County of Kootenay, by Judge Spinks, under the Speedy Trials Act, the question of jurisdiction of the County Court judge of Yale to sit in the County Court of Kamloops, was argued at length by Mr. Sprague and the Attorney-General.

The British Columbia Deposit and Loan Co., Ltd.

Capital $500,000 (with power to increase), Divided in 10,000 Shares of $50.00 Each.

DIRECTORS:

The Hon. Sir Joseph W. Trutch, Victoria, K. C. M. G., Chairman; E. Crow Baker, Esq., Victoria, C. T. Dupont, Esq., Victoria, Thomas Earle, Esq., (Thos. Earle & Co.) Victoria, M. P., Merchant. OFFICES:—Turner Block, Douglas Street, Victoria, B. C. MANAGER:—J. Keith Wilson, Esq.

The objects for which the Company is established are:—

1. To invest and lend money at interest on the security of real estate or other property in British Columbia and elsewhere, or any interest therein, including existing mortgages or other securities, also to purchase the bonds or debentures of any Government or Municipal body, or of any incorporated railway company, or other incorporated body.

2. To acquire, hold and sell any such property as aforesaid, purchased as aforesaid, or accepted as security for money advanced by or owing to the Company.

3. To build on, drain, let, farm, develop or otherwise utilize or improve, and generally exercise the rights of owners over, any property the Company may lend on or acquire an interest in.

4. To undertake agencies and conduct financial business of any kind in British Columbia or elsewhere.

5. To receive and take money on deposit, or for investment on the guarantee of the Company or otherwise, or to guarantee payment of any money expressed to be secured by any mortgage.

6. To borrow money at interest, and to issue bonds or debentures as security therefor; and

7. To perform all such acts, matters and things as the Company may deem incidental or otherwise conducive to the attainment of any of the above objects, or to the conversion or disposition of any security or property held by the Company.

The organization of the Company is the result of the consideration by its promoters of the subject of Insurance, which now permeates nearly every class of mercantile business.

When considering the subject it occurred to them that if the principle of Insurance in the form of a satisfactory guarantee for the due payment of interest at a rate to be agreed upon and against loss of principal, were to be applied to the ordinary investment of money on securities, a large percentage of capital now on deposit at low rates of interest in the savings banks and other depositories, and which is locked up, would be withdrawn and become available for loans on securities, and thus be put in circulation.

With a view of offering such guarantee this Company has been incorporated with a capital of $500,000, (with power to increase), a small instalment only, viz., $10,000, of which has been called up to meet initiatory expenses. The remaining unpaid portion of this capital sum, viz., $490,000, shall form such guarantee to investors with the Company, which it is intended to supplement by the creation of a Reserve Fund, of which the unexpended balance of the capital called up shall form the nucleus.

It is further intended that no calls shall be made in respect to the unpaid capital except to meet liabilities.

The whole of the capital has been subscribed by persons whose position, both financially and socially, is believed to be unquestionable; and by the Articles of Association no person can hold more than 200 shares (representing $10,000), nor will any shareholder be at liberty to have transfer of his shares registered without the sanction of the Directors having been first obtained.

Deposits may be secured by debentures to be issued by the Company or by similar debentures secured by the hypothecation of securities taken by the Company.

Arrangements may be effected with the Company for the guarantee of securities approved by the Company.

EXPLORING MOUNT BAKER.

A Sulphur River and a Marble Cliff—Hard to Reach the Summit.

SUMAS, July 15.—On Sunday last, F. L. Robertson, L. B. John and C. F. Stoops, of Blaine, returned from a prospecting trip around Mount Baker. The party numbered five, including J. H. Robertson and John Wagen, who came in last week. The party brought with them some of the finest samples of free milling gold quartz yet seen this side of the Cascade mountains, also samples of lava and the sulphur formations about the crater and north glacier. The party, in going out, went up the middle fork of the Nooksack river, going to the north or mountain side of the canyon, which is but seventy-five feet in width and 1,000 feet deep, then to the divide between the middle fork and Baker river. On this divide there is a lake of considerable size. Both the Baker river, which empties into the Skagit, and the middle fork of the Nooksack rise on the south side and drain the glacier there, which this party says is, if anything, of greater extent than that on the north side, being at least a half mile in width and 200 feet thick, in places being as clear as a crystal. It must be extensive, since it feeds two good sized rivers, the Baker alone being larger than the north fork of the Nooksack, which drains the north glacier. The explorers passed round the mountain on the east side to the glacier on the northwest side, and then followed down Glacier creek to the north fork. They say the milky appearance of the water in the north fork is caused by the sulphur formation. The water is so strongly impregnated that no fish exist in the river. This is not true of the smaller streams on the south fork, which abound in trout. This party report the existence of a whole mountain side of marble on Boulder creek, which empties into the north fork. This was discovered before. They did not attempt the ascent of the mountain to the top, but are satisfied it can be accomplished from the east side. They saw the camp fires on the mountain side of the other Blaine prospecting party, one member of which lost his life by accident, and the Whatcom party on the nights of July 2 and 3. They are inclined to believe the Whatcom party did not reach the summit, for two reasons. On July 3, the day they claim to have made the ascent, this party was in a position to have seen them and to have seen the flag, which was hoisted also, they do not think the mountain can be scaled from the west side where their camp fire was seen.

Mr. John says the old crater was emitting no smoke during this trip. He said although he had conversed with a man in Blaine who told him that in the fall of 1890 he saw fire in the crater on two different nights, he does not credit it, and attributes the appearance of smoke to the vapor arising from the melting snow.

The inability to distinguish the flag through glasses, on July 3, from Sumas, and the previous failures in attempts to ascend Mount Baker, make its accomplishment from the west side by the Whatcom party very questionable.

Prof. A. G. Ingraham, who has made the ascent of Mount Rainier, attempted the ascent of Mount Baker with a party of nine in the month of August, in 1889, and again in 1890. They went up from the south and west side and failed each time to get over the glacier, where they found a crevasse 300 feet wide and 500 feet deep.

Mr. W. B. Goodwin, of Seattle, who has a claim on the middle fork, and is fairly well acquainted with the country in the vicinity of the mountain, announced here, yesterday, that he would, with Mr. R. M. Hurd, of Seattle, attempt the ascent of Mount Baker in August. As they have had some experience in the Swiss Alps, he thinks they will accomplish their object, and make it known to a certainty that they did so.

GIVING HIS WIFE AWAY.

Story of a Strange Agreement Between Two Ardent Socialists.

Harry Gaylor Wilshire, who is a rich Socialist—surely a curious anomaly—and who, moreover, is unquestionably one of the most skillful expounders of socialistic doctrines in this country, is at present sojourning in the Adirondacks, accompanied by his wife, and is seeking rest and recreation and paying board to the summer landlords after the conventional fashion observed by the ordinary everyday human contingent. But Mr. Wilshire is an interesting personality outside of the fact that he offers in himself the uncommon union of a bloated bondholder and an enthusiastic champion of socialistic theories. He illustrates in notably direct and unflinching fashion the most "advanced" nineteenth century ideas respecting the marriage relation, and yet at the same time offers the illustration without raising any issue between himself and the State.

Mr. Wilson's wife, who is an uncommonly beautiful and accomplished Englishwoman, was, up to a comparatively short time ago, the wife of Mr. Wilshire's fellow-socialist, his most intimate and well-beloved friend, and his business and journalistic associate, William C. Owen. Mr. Owen is an Englishman, a man of birth, breeding and varied accomplishments. During his brief career he has established and conducted a number of magazines and periodicals devoted to illuminating and enforcing socialistic arguments, and has been an industrious writer of books designed to advance the cause of socialism.

A STRANGE TRANSFORMATION.

The transformation of Mrs. William C. Owen into Mrs. Henry Gaylor Wilshire, it may be remarked, has not been attended by any disturbance of the Damon-Pythias relations that have existed for many years between the men who are now her first and second husbands. The transfer of the woman in the case from one Socialist orator and writer to the other one has been accomplished without any of the unpleasant friction that would undoubtedly have marked the proceeding had it been gone through with under the more staid and conventional notions of respectability and intellectuality in trade or the unimpaired grandfathers Wilshire, who, in addition to being the only millionaire Socialist in the country, is an eloquent speaker and a very fascinating man, met the Owen family in San Francisco.

They were poor and he was rich, but as Owen sympathized with his views, he became a visitor at their house, where the somewhat dissatisfied wife gave him a genuine welcome. Like her husband she was a finely educated woman, and had become used to a manner of living which their depleted income made impossible for her. Owen recognized the fact that he could not support his wife in the style that she desired, and that Wilshire could so support her, and he agreed that he should apply for a divorce and he would not be in charge of infidelity on either side was possible. The only reason given to California courts was incompatibility of temper. It was no unusual plea in that State, and the decree of divorce was made.

"No one knows," says a Socialist friend, "and none ever will know what it cost Owen freely to give up to his friend the woman he had loved. It was better for her, however, and he argued that if she could not love him he had no right to hold her. He found no fault with Wilshire for his part in the matter, and declared that he would continue their friend after the marriage. Shortly after the campaign last year, just when they were most prominently before the public, Mrs. Owen became Mrs. Wilshire by civil contract. The bride and bridegroom left Los Angeles for the East immediately afterward, and Owen and his ten-year-old daughter remained behind.

"They followed to New York in a few days, and after further conferences the daughter was put in charge of the mother. Before the Wilshires left New York for the summer Owen went to see them regularly, teaching the little girl French and German and looking after her education generally. The industrial question and the marriage question are closely allied, argued Mr. Owen, and no woman should be kept in bondage by any man, either as a wage-worker or as a wife. When for any reason husband and wife cannot agree, they should separate openly and honestly. Women should have equal rights with men, but the men to-day do not agree with this proposition. A time will come when they will."

CRESCENT CORRESPONDENCE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

PORT CRESCENT, July 16.—Mr. J. C. Heath, wife and two children, Dr. Heath, and Mrs. M. F. and Julia Smith, all of Port Townsend, are camping at Lake Crescent, enjoying mountain air and scenery, with fishing and hunting in addition. Their outfit was the first freight taken by wagon to Lake Crescent.

A. C. Stetson, of Seattle, was here, yesterday.

August Campbell and wife, of Victoria, are here for a brief visit.

The fine steamboat accommodation on the straits have increased the amount of travel down the coast. Lake Crescent is getting a large number of visitors.

R. McDowell, of the Hotel Markham, is recovering from the severe injuries recently received by being impaled by the dash rail of his trolley.

J. W. Manson, of Lake Crescent, was struck by a falling tree, yesterday, and suffered a painful injury of the shoulder.

Never try to make others believe what you do not believe yourself.

It would be nonsense for me to advertise that I have got the largest stock in B. C., or even the choicest and best selected, or that my facilities for the transaction of business are superior to those of any other grocer.
No such thing, I do NOT claim it. But I DO CLAIM to have a really GOOD STOCK OF STAPLE and FANCY GROCERIES, and that they are not only well selected but well bought, and, furthermore, that I believe my prices, taken all round, are cheaper in the long run than those of any other firm in Victoria.
I also guarantee fair dealing EVERY TIME.
